

Project Wet Literacy Activities*

- Idea Pools, page 7 acknowledges prior learning, shares prior learning
- Water Actions, page 12 applying, developing, and implementing investigations and action plans, evaluating, presenting
- Water Log, page 19 journaling
- Aqua Notes, page 66 taking knowledge and creating a song, based on water learning
- Life Box, page 76, analyzing, identifying relationships, interpreting, deducing
- People of the Bog, page 89, observation, writing observations
- Poison Pump, page 93, analyzing, identifying patterns, interpreting cause and effect
- Super Sleuth, page 107, organizing, matching, recording, analyzing, inferring, determining cause and effect, interpreting results, writing results,
- Water Address, page 122 organizing, analyzing, identifying components, interpreting, summarizing, applying
- Imagine, page 157 listening, interpreting, writing
- Wet Vacation, page 206, organizing, analyzing, identifying components and relationships, creating, designing, presenting
- Water Journeys, page 246 gathering information, reading, listening, researching, organizing, mapping, applying designing, presenting
- Choices and Preferences, Water Index, page 367 organizing, graphing, compare and contrasting, interpreting, drawing conclusions
- Dilemma Derby, page 377 analyzing, interpreting, translation, relating,
- Hot Water, page 388 library research, gathering information, organizing, analyzing, interpreting, applying, evaluating, debating
- Pass the Jug, page 392 organizing, formulating questions, analyzing, applying, problem solving
- Perspectives, page 397 gathering information, researching, listening, organizing, categorizing, decision-making
- Water Read All About It, page 400 gathering information, designing, composing, evaluating, presenting writing

- Water Bill of Rights, page 403 gathering information, listening, proposing solutions, writing, persuading, and debating
- Water Court, page 413 applying, evaluating, presenting, debating, persuading, and public speaking
- What's Happening, page 425 gathering information, organizing, calculating, graphing, interpreting, evaluating, writing, reporting.
- Whose Problem, page 429 Gathering information, listening, collecting, organizing, analyzing, comparing, discussing, contrasting, interpreting, defining problems, generalizing, drawing conclusions
- Raining Cats and Dogs, page 435 gathering information, listening, organizing, matching, analyzing, identifying, relationships and components, discussion

*Of course literacy and writing can be added to any learning opportunity, these lessons were found to be most aligned with literacy activities.